

The Think Sun Academy
Reference Letter
February 23, 2021

Dear Whomever This May Concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend The Think Sun Academy as a potential school for your child. The school is licensed, follows all governmental protocols and I believe that my child is safe while in the care of Mrs. Khallad and Mrs. Hall. They show every day that they have extraordinary talent and dedication to teaching young students.

Mrs. Khallad and Mrs. Hall set high, attainable standards for their students while giving them the tools necessary to succeed in their studies. My daughter comes home each day and tells me what she has learned or done. She takes pride in showing me her drawing, colouring, cutting and tracing skills. Her teachers instill a sense of confidence in her that I am certain she will carry with her through her schooling.

At The Think Sun Academy, the teachers recognize early on what a student needs to succeed and where the areas of growth are. Early in the beginning of the year, administration brought in specialists to complete educational assessments of the students to determine if supports were required. These supports could then lead to occupational therapy or other areas of assistance in kindergarten, if required. As a parent, I can tell that Mrs. Khallad and Mrs. Hall care deeply about the success of their students through their daily actions, parent communication and interactions with their students.

My daughter entered into the Junior Kindergarten program at The Think Sun Academy in September of 2020. In light of the pandemic, and this being her first experience with a school setting, I had my concerns. Mrs. Khallad and Mrs. Hall immediately put those concerns to rest during my first interaction with them. They followed Covid-19 protocols and ensured that children were cared for and safe while in their care. They have gone above and beyond my expectations and have given my daughter the best opportunity to learn possible. As a teacher myself, I confidently recommend this school to other parents regularly as the level of care is undoubtable and exactly what I think children need and deserve.

I am thankful each day for finding this school.

Sincerely,

Allyson Heggie
